

Oh My God, They're Here!

Prepared by KCCNJ.com

Characters:

Mom: Overly enthusiastic and slightly frazzled.

Dad: Laid-back and oblivious to the chaos.

Sister (Emma): A teenager who thinks she's too cool for Christmas.

Brother (Jake): A mischievous little brother with a knack for getting into trouble.

Grandma: Sweet but slightly hard of hearing.

Aunt Linda: The overly dramatic relative who brings unexpected gifts.

Uncle Bob: The family jokester who loves to embarrass everyone.

Setting:

The living room is decorated for Christmas with a tree, lights, and an assortment of mismatched ornaments. There are cookies on the table, and a pile of presents is waiting to be opened.

Scene 1: The Calm Before the Storm

(Mom is bustling around the living room, adjusting decorations. Dad is sitting on the couch, reading a newspaper.)

Mom: (excitedly) Okay, everyone! The guests will be here any minute! Emma, have you finished your holiday shopping?

Emma: (rolling her eyes) Mom, I'm not a kid anymore. I just texted everyone my gift ideas. They can Venmo me.

Jake: (sneaking in with a cookie) Can I eat these now? They look delicious!

Mom: (gasping) No! Those are for the guests! You'll ruin your dinner!

(Jake grins mischievously and takes a big bite.)

Scene 2: The Arrival of Guests

(The doorbell rings. Mom rushes to the door.)

Mom: (opening the door wide) Oh my God, they're here!

(Aunt Linda enters dramatically with a giant gift.)

Aunt Linda: (loudly) Merry Christmas, everyone! I brought you all something special!

(She struggles to carry in a huge, sparkly box that's clearly too big for the room.)

Uncle Bob: (entering behind her) If that box is anything like your last gift, we might need a crane to get it out of here!

(Everyone laughs except Aunt Linda, who looks confused.)

Scene 3: The Comedic Chaos Begins

(Grandma enters slowly with a walking cane.)

Grandma: (shouting) What's all this ruckus? Is it Christmas already? I thought it was still Halloween!

(Everyone exchanges glances.)

Mom: (whispering to Dad) Should we remind her about Thanksgiving?

(Dad shrugs and goes back to his newspaper.)

Scene 4: Misunderstandings Galore

(As everyone settles down, Jake sneaks behind Aunt Linda and tries to peek inside her giant gift.)

Aunt Linda: (catching him) Hey! What are you doing? That's a surprise!

Jake: (innocently) Just checking if it's alive!

(Emma rolls her eyes while texting on her phone.)

Emma: You know what would be a better surprise? If you didn't bring fruitcake this year.

(Aunt Linda gasps dramatically.)

Scene 5: The Holiday Dinner Disaster

(The family gathers around the table for dinner. Mom is trying to serve food while Dad is still reading his newspaper.)

Mom: (frantically) Everyone grab a plate! We have turkey, stuffing, and—

(She trips over Jake's foot and spills gravy everywhere.)

Uncle Bob: (laughing) Well, that's one way to add flavor!

(Grandma leans in closer.)

Grandma: What did he say? Is there gravy on my plate?

Scene 6: The Gift Exchange

(After dinner, they gather around the tree for gifts. Aunt Linda hands out presents.)

Aunt Linda: Now remember, everyone—no peeking until I say go!

(Jake can't contain himself and rips open his gift early.)

Jake: (holding up a pair of socks) Oh wow! Just what I wanted... said no one ever!

(Everyone laughs while Aunt Linda pretends to be offended.)

Scene 7: The Grand Finale

(As they finish opening gifts, Grandma stands up to make a toast but accidentally knocks over her drink.)

Grandma: (shouting) Whoops! Looks like I'm making my own Christmas punch!

(Everyone bursts into laughter as Dad finally puts down his newspaper and joins in.)

Conclusion

(The family gathers together for a group hug amidst the chaos.)

Mom: (smiling) Merry Christmas, everyone! No matter how crazy it gets, I wouldn't trade this for anything.

Everyone cheers as they embrace each other in laughter. End of Skit