Max - The cautious one

Ella - The overly dramatic one

Santa - The surprise guest

Mom/Dad - The unsuspecting parent

Setting:

A cozy living room decorated for Christmas, with a plate of cookies and a glass of milk on a table, twinkling lights, and a Christmas tree in the corner.

Scene 1: The Plan

(The children are gathered in the living room, whispering excitedly.)

Narrator: (cheerfully) It's Christmas Eve, and our clever little friends have hatched a plan to steal cookies left out for Santa!

Sam: (with a mischievous grin) Alright, team! Here's the plan. We'll sneak in, grab the cookies, and be out before anyone notices!

Lily: (bouncing with excitement) What if we get caught?

Max: (nervously) Yeah, what if Santa sees us?

Ella: (dramatically) I can't go to the North Pole! I'll never see my family again!

Sam: (rolling his eyes) Relax! We'll be quick. Just follow my lead!

Scene 2: The Heist

(The children tiptoe towards the table with exaggerated stealth.)

Narrator: And so, our daring crew begins their mission!

(They crouch down behind the couch.)

Lily: (whispering) I can see the cookies! They look so good!

Max: (peeking out) Wait! What if there's a trap?

Ella: (gasping) A cookie trap?! Like in the movies?!

Sam: (confidently) No traps! Just cookies! On three... one... two... three!

(They all rush towards the table but trip over each other and fall in a heap.)

Scene 3: The Capture

(Mom/Dad enters from another room, holding a cup of hot cocoa.)

Mom/Dad: (surprised) What are you kids doing on the floor?

(The children scramble to their feet, trying to act innocent.)

Lily: Uh... we were just... practicing our dance moves!

Max: Yeah! The "Cookie Shuffle"!

Ella: (spinning dramatically) It's very advanced!

Mom/Dad: (raising an eyebrow) Right. Well, Santa won't be happy if he doesn't find any cookies.

Scene 4: Santa Arrives

(Suddenly, there's a loud "Ho Ho Ho!" from offstage. Santa enters with a big bag of toys.)

Santa: (jovially) Did someone say cookies?

(The children gasp and freeze.)

Sam: (stammering) Uh... we were just... um... testing them for you!

Santa: (laughing heartily) Testing? You mean stealing!

Ella: (guiltily) We thought you wouldn't mind...

Scene 5: The Twist

Santa: (smiling) Well, since you're honest about it, how about this? You can help me deliver presents if you promise to leave the cookies alone!

Lily: Really? We get to help deliver presents?!

Max: This is way better than just eating cookies!

Scene 6: Conclusion

Narrator: And so, our little cookie thieves became Santa's helpers for the night!

(The children cheer and gather around Santa as he hands them small gifts.)

Santa: Remember kids, Christmas is about giving, not just receiving. Now let's go spread some holiday cheer!

Final Curtain

(All characters wave to the audience as they exit together with Santa.)
